

From the Local to the Global Workplaces: Mental Health across Cultural Boundaries in New Generations

To promote the attention and open the opportunity for dialogue and innovation across all walks of life in Taiwan regarding the issues of mental health of the young generations, the College of International Studies and Social Sciences of National Taiwan Normal University invites you to attend the 2018 CISS International Conference.

We welcome various types of papers for submission. The conference themes include youth mental health, work or internship, cross-cultural experiences, community engagement, and addictions (alcohol, tobacco, drugs and Internet). The sub-themes include youth community participation, overseas teaching or internship, cultural adaptation of new residents, community-based health promotion programs, workplace safety, workplace equality, workplace happiness creation and sustainable development of enterprises, human resource development in long-term care, cross-generation workplace value and communication, substance abuse and Internet addiction preventions and interventions, other issues regarding youth mental health promotion and adaptation.

The conference accepts abstract submissions, and the paper can't be previously published work. Abstract (Chinese about 500 words or English about 300 words).

Important Dates:

Conference Dates : October 26-27, 2018

Submission Deadline: May 15, 2018

Acceptance Notification by Email: June 30, 2018

Finalized Paper Deadline: August 31, 2018

Registration Deadline: October 18, 2018

For problems regarding registration or submission, please contact cissntnu@gmail.com.

Please register online first and then follow the directions for submission.

Registration Website:

<https://goo.gl/forms/6hN9kNdJB0iMYknx1>

QR Code Scan Registration:

